Overview of ChatGPT Enterprise Plugins and how to connect to them

Monday July 20, IT released MS Plugins for ChatGPT that will enable the UCSF community to access connected content in ChatGPT:

- Microsoft Outlook Email
- Microsoft Outlook Calendar
- Microsoft Teams

<https://tiny.ucsf.edu/qjfWTk>

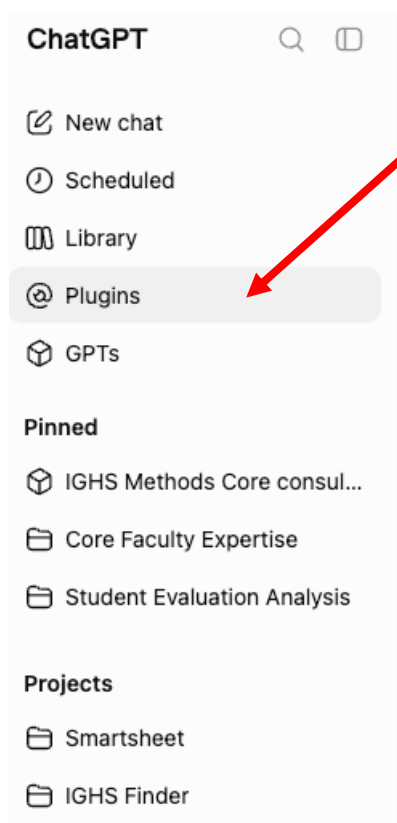

More info at: <https://ai.ucsf.edu/chatgpt-enterprise-plugins>

What Plugins for Outlook/Teams can do

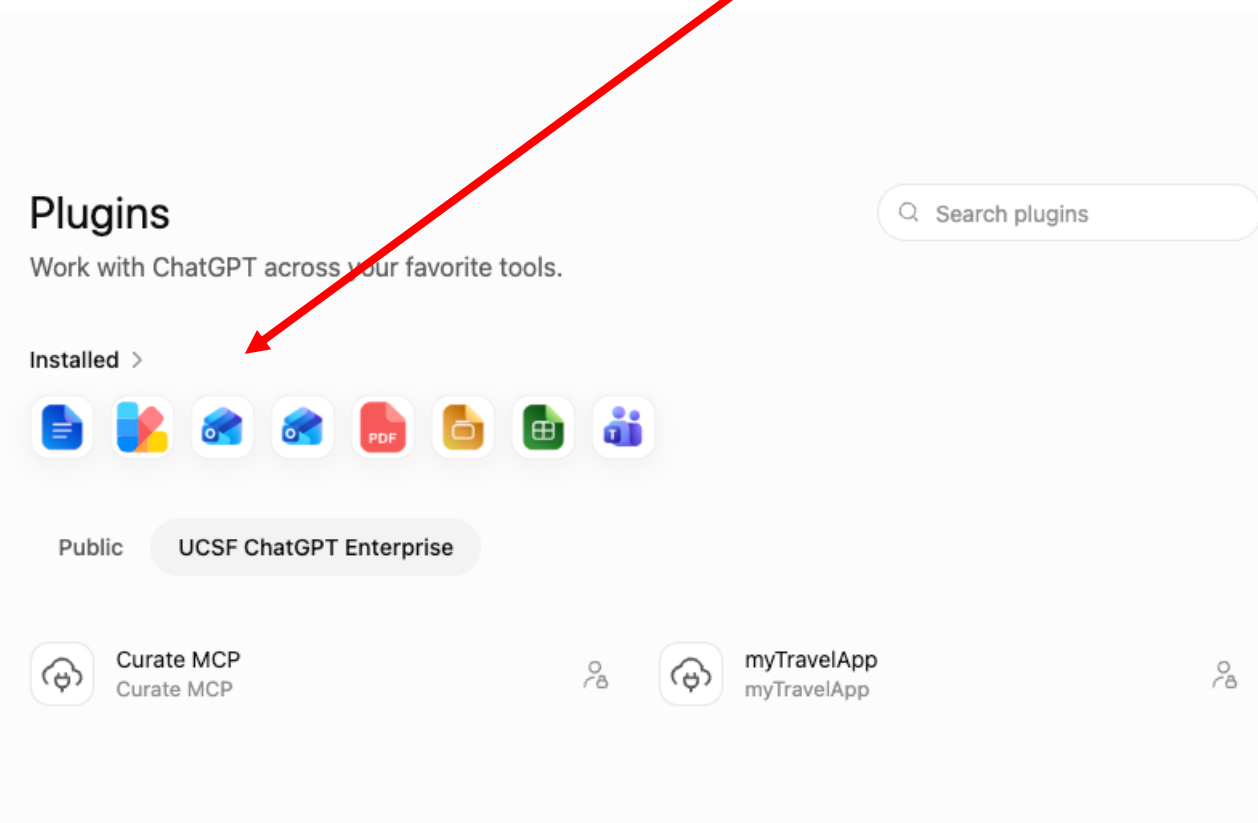

- Read email
- Summarize email threads
- Draft email replies
- Search calendar
- Find meeting availability
- Review meeting schedules
- Search Teams conversations
- Summarize Teams discussions
- Draft Teams responses
- MS Office cannot access ChatGPT

Rate Limits

If you receive the error, it does not indicate a platform issue or outage. It means your account has reached its rate limit. Once your rate limit resets, you can try again.

Daily email review >

I searched your Outlook mailbox for messages received on Wednesday, July 29, 2026.

High priority / likely to need attention

- Qualtrics Outage: Alert (Unread)
 - From: UCSF IT Incident Command
 - Status: Unread
 - Summary: Qualtrics was reported unavailable due to a vendor issue. UCSF IT indicated they were working with the vendor to restore service.
 - Action: Check whether a follow-up "resolved" notice has arrived if you rely on Qualtrics today.
 - Reply needed: No.
- MEI Toolkit Chatbot Prototype
 - From: Allison Tatarsky Berman
 - Summary: Allison confirmed that the chatbot prototype "generally works" and thanked you, indicating positive feedback on the current implementation.
 - Action: None immediately unless you're continuing planned improvements.
 - Reply needed: Not required.
